

As a Shout-Outs® Independent Consultant there is unlimited potential on how much money you can earn selling Shout-Outs® products. While establishing your own business, you can also forge new friendships by joining our family of consultants. Shout-Outs has enjoyed our growing success for over the past 3 years and all products are guaranteed, Consultants can sell them with confidence.

There are two ways in which you can earn:

You can earn up to 40% of the suggested retail price of every product you sell.

You can earn cash or prizes for each successful recommendation.

It is simple. The more products you sell, the more money you earn.

As an independent Shout-Outs Consultant your earnings are based on your item sales (excluding illustration fees). And, the percentage you earn increases as your total dollar amount increases. However, to encourage and motivate new Consultants Shout-Outs automatically guarantees personal earnings of 40% on their first order, regardless of the dollar amount. Shout-Outs again guarantees 40% personal earnings on the second, third and fourth orders if your order is $100 or more. This gives starting Consultants simple and definable goals to meet while still allowing you to benefit from your hard work. After the fifth order, your earnings are based upon your actual total dollar sales of our items, with incentives for high sellers.

Along with earnings from your personal sales, becoming a Consultant Advisor allows you to receive significant cash bonuses for recruiting training and developing others. These rewards are called Advisor Bonuses. As a Consultant Advisor you can earn from 2% to 10% of the sales of the Consultants that you successfully recruit and motivate.

As a Shout-Outs Consultant, your greatest reward -- both personal and financial -- will be achieved by helping other Consultants build their own profitable businesses.
